House Tour: An Elegant French Home Worthy of Royalty

Photography by Simon Upton

To create her first Paris apartment, a Middle Eastern princess turns to designer Jean-Louis Deniot, who conjures a fresh, fanciful, and feminine take on traditional elegance. A painting by Mathieu Mercier hangs above a Jean de Merry console in a hall; the Tommi Parzinger floor lamps were found on 1stdibs, the pendant lights are by Ombre Portée, and the faux-stone walls were painted by Florence Girette.
